My prayers and thoughts are with you Teresa and James and family, I pray that your hearts will find a peace that surpasses all understanding, in the midst of days ahead as you reflect on memories of your loved one I pray your hearts will smile with fond memories knowing as well that he is in the arms of our father who is in heaven, with a love left behind that shall never cease... God is too wise to make a mistake and too just to do wrong!! May love always conquer the hearts

“ I didn't know you not here anymore 😞😞 this really hurts so bad! There's so many things I wished I could've done differently but I want you to know that I really did care about you so much and I wished things could've been better between us. You called me and texted me and left me a crazy voicemail about coming to find me since I wouldn't answer your call, which I still have saved and listen too. If I had known a month later, you wouldn't be here, I would've picked up the phone and talked to you and just let how I was feeling go. When people say life is short, I honestly see what that means because you're not here. With our ups and downs I want you to know that you're a wonderful man and you will be missed. I pray that you're at peace and I'm praying for your family. I know how much you loved them and how much they love you. We had so many wonderful times together and I thought one day we can get everything right between you and I because I wanted to us to live life together, grow old together and us getting on each other's nerves like we always do. The last time I'm came over, I saw you had save my blue house coat. You had hung it up in your closet. It shocked me because you got rid of it. You thought I was crazy for even thinking that you would do that. It goes to show that you really cared about me a lot. No matter what. You never threw me away no matter how much I pushed you away. You never gave up on me even in Your final weeks. I can go on and on with all our moments spent together but you and I know what we had was something special no matter what else was going on. I remember that night that me and you rode together all night the first time we met in person when you met me downtown Greenville in your Malibu and you was playing erykah badu with those loud speakers and one of the songs that was playing was next lifetime. I pray and hope that whenever my time comes I get to see you again in the next lifetime. Hopefully things will be different. But until then, rest in peace beautiful angel. This time it's my time to come find you and pay my respects and give you your flowers. I'm just glad that I was able to tell you how I really feel about you months prior. Come visit me anytime angel.
