“ To the Henry Family, where does one begin? a pillar of the community, a pioneer in the music industry, a living legend, and last but not least a man of God, and I am ashamed to say that George never got the recognition that he deserved, but if George was here he would say that is ok, because I am in Hallelujah Square, with Jesus and all my love ones. I had the privilege of singing with George some years ago at weddings,(we sang at my now in heaven sisters wedding Gilda and a few more after that and he played for me on funerals (I not being the best singer, however when George started playing that piano and harmonizing with you, he made you sound good) To the family, I will never forget the support that you all have given us down through the years, when there were homegoing in my family starting in 1997 with my grandfather, to my sister in 1998, and more recently my uncles and aunts. The last time I saw George it was on some business, so I called him and he said ok come by my home in Belton and I did, we had some laughs when I got in my car, I said George would you like to have these cookies, that I bought for my mom from subway? and she wanted a different kind, George said yes I will take them, and before I could pull off he had eaten all those cookies, I laughed George said bye girl, I said bye George, but this time not bye George, but in that great getting up morning! To your sisters thank you for the support (coming to our house to see us was a blessing when my sweet sister Gilda transitioned from earth to heaven)

“ It’s hard to find words to express my heartfelt sorrow at George’s passing, while simultaneously rejoicing at the fact that is no longer suffering but is singing with the angels. George truly exemplified serving The Lord with joy and gladness. I had an assignment that I was planning to present to him at our next porch fellowship, but God had another plan. George is gone, but will never be forgotten or replaced. He was a true icon in gospel music, not just in the Belton community but nationwide. His influence, his legacy, will be felt from here to eternity. I love you my friend.
