Holloway's Funeral Home - February 19, 2018 at 05:12 PM

“ My Father Raymond was Aunt Nellie’s baby-brother. Being his eldest child I absorbed early, many of his stories about the exploits of his middle sister whom he so proudly called “Nellie Vae” ... He spoke often of her fiery spirit, which I got to see as I grew old enough to understand that defining ... Dad said she was a pistol, and she was ... What I most loved about her was the way she talked, how her mannerisms and gesturing, especially with her eyes, emphasized everything she said in a way that made you think she was way wiser than most ... As with my own parents, I also greatly admired the dynamic of her marital relationship with Uncle Nick - they were tight!...So love to all my family members, derived from her, in your time of sorrow ...Thank God, in Jesus, we’ll get to meet up with her again! (1 Thes. 4: 13-18).
