“ I just heard about the loss of Ngaio today. It saddens me greatly to hear about this. I worked with Ngaio at Michelin for several years. He was a hard working man. He was dedicated and stuck to it every day no matter the circumstances. I had many conversations with him talking about always doing better and trying to make the best of things. He always had a smile on his face and always looked at the silver lining of things. I'm so sorry for his families loss. I haven't gotten a chance to speak with him for a few years, but know people still think about him and I for one know that I will always remember him. I worked at Michelin for just about 10yrs and he was there most of them. I can't remember much of a time of him not being there. He will be very missed. I wish all the best to his family and friends and hope their pain is eased with time. It's very hard to loose someone and it's a open wound that never heals. Just take the good times and memories and cherish those for the rest of our days. Take care and Rest in Peace Ngaio. It's your time to take it easy old friend.
