“ *Praise The Lord, Praise The Lord
Letter to my Brother Tom*

Tom you was caring, thoughtful, giving. Always took your time, never in a rush and always wanting to do things properly.

Thank you for all you did for myself and family. I remember how you would always bring gifts for the children; you never came round empty handed. I loved your sense of humour, you always put yourself out for others. You enjoyed my cooking and would say “Good Sis, Good dinner!”

I will miss your cheeky, smiling face, you were mischievous! I remember the time back home when you took the gramophone from the house and broke it. We were all upset with you.

Rest in eternal peace my brother.

Will always remember your saying “Praise The Lord, Praise the Lord”

Your loving sis, Flo.

“ Brother Tom was a proper man, and I would always catch him walking through the mall doing his daily laps for exercise. He would always adjust your neck tie, and in his English gentleman accent, he would says “keep hope alive!” Our running joke would be the fact he never had pancakes, and I would ask him every Friday night if he wanted to go to get some pancakes for breakfast the following day. He would always just bust out laughing and tell me to leave him alone! I’ll miss you Bro. Tom (I said that in my best overseas English accent!). I Love you! Rest on, you’re finally back with your sweet bride!
